

ANSWERS

1. Intentional; the speaker is talking around the fact that they are not good-looking.
2. Intentional: the speaker doesn't want to directly address the issue, and the changes are probably not going to be well-received.
3. Intentional: The respondent does not want to directly answer the question they were asked.