

ANSWERS

Self-Fulfilling Prophecy involves having knowledge of the future does not involve time travel

Both Self-Fulfilling Prophecy and Predestination Paradox both involve people being unable to change what happens in both, the character may unwittingly bring about what they are trying to prevent

Predestination Paradox

involves traveling into the past to try to change something that will thus alter their future (i.e., the present from which they have traveled)