

ANSWERS

1. Pathetic fallacy is when human emotions are attributed to inanimate things in nature.
2. Pathetic fallacy is similar to personification in that it gives inanimate objects in nature the human quality of emotions. Personification is broader in that it gives any human attribute (action, thoughts, emotions, etc.) to anything that is not human.
3. it lends depth and texture to a description, and makes writing more interesting and descriptive
4. in literature, in descriptive writing, should be used sparingly
5. in scientific writing
6. will vary