

ANSWERS

The peripeteia occurs in Act 3, Scene 3 when Hamlet comes upon Claudius praying and decides not to kill him. His hesitance sets into motion the deaths of Hamlet, his mother, Laertes, and Ophelia. It is different from the peripeteia of Greek tragedy because his downfall isn't the result of an action, but of his INACTION.