Polyptoton

Identify the polyptoton in the lines from Alfred Lord Tennyson's poem "Maud A Monodrama" and write the words below:

"My own heart's heart, and ownest own, farewell...
My dream? do I dream of bliss?
I have walk'd awake with Truth ... For my dark-dawning youth,
Darken'd watching a mother decline
And that dead man at her heart and mine...
Yet so did I let my freshness die...

Seal'd her mine from her first sweet breath.
Mine, mine by a right, from birth till death.
Mine, mine—our fathers have sworn."
