

ANSWERS

Tautology means saying the same thing twice using different words.

Anaphora is the intentional repetition of a certain word or phrase at the beginning of a sentence. Repetition means the same word or phrase over and over; tautology is repetition of the same idea.

Epistrophe is the intentional repetition of a certain word or phrase at the end of a sentence.