

ANSWERS

1. Zeugma is when you use a word in a sentence one time to simultaneously convey two different meanings. Often one meaning is literal while the other is figurative, but sometimes two completely different meanings of the word are employed.
2. Start with a linking word, and think about how that word could be used in two different way to convey two different meanings
3. To create surprise and dramatic effect.
4. there is a risk of being unclear or confusing
5. sparingly