Counting Rhymes Answer Key

1. The elephant is reciting the classic children's counting rhyme "Eeny, meeny, miny, moe."
2. The other animals are smiling and seem to be enjoying the rhyme, with hearts shown above their heads in the second panel, indicating they are happy or loving the interaction.
3. The scene takes place outdoors in a green area with trees, butterflies, and a hollow tree that seems to be the elephant's home.
4. In the last panel, the elephant is inside the hollow tree with a group of smaller animals, all showing affection with hearts above them, suggesting they are playing a game or having a friendly gathering inside the elephant's home.
