

Name :

Class :

Line, Rays and Line Segments

A line is a straight path on a plane that extends forever in both directions with no endpoints. A line segment is part of a line that has two endpoints and is finite in length. A ray is a line segment that extends indefinitely in one direction.

Identify each diagram as representing a line, line segment or a ray

