

ANSWERS

Coordinating conjunctions are used to join two independent clauses that are of equal importance. They can show agreement, disagreement or reason to be the relationship between the clauses.

Sentences will vary.