

ANSWERS

1. The fear of witchcraft and partnership with the devil.
2. Approximately 200 people were accused of being witches.
3. in the Puritan town of Salem, Massachusetts
4. Two young girls started having unexplained screaming fits. The girls accused three local women of being witches and of cursing them. The pastor would have a "trial" whenever someone was accused of being a witch.
5. 20
6. The governor of Massachusetts stopped the trials in May of 1693 freeing and pardoning all those being held on suspicion of witchcraft at the time.