The Funny Robot

In my science class, we were building a ____ (hot/robot). I put all the pieces together and pressed the button to start it. The robot immediately made a funny sound and started to move around. It looked like it was about to trip over a ____ (lot/shot) of books on the floor! I laughed and quickly moved the books away, just in time for the robot to make a perfect ____ (dot/not) on the paper.
