

Name _____

The Great Pajama Parade Disaster

Directions - Use the word in parentheses to complete the story. Change the final y to i, then add the correct ending.

Yesterday, the students _____ their costumes into the gym for the school's Great Pajama Parade. (carry) Two _____ wore superhero capes, while three students dressed as dancing alarm clocks. (baby)

Mr. Gomez _____ to begin the parade, but a goat wearing fuzzy slippers dashed through the door. (try) It ran _____ between the chairs and knocked over a basket of socks. (hurry)

The gym quickly became _____ than it had been before. (noisy) Children laughed _____ as the goat marched onto the stage and bowed to the crowd. (happy)

Then six _____ flew out of a costume box. (butterfly) They landed on the goat's pajamas, making it look even _____. (funny) The goat seemed pleased and strutted around as if it had won first prize.

Mrs. Lee _____ the parade instructions onto a new poster while the principal searched for the goat's owner. (copy) Several _____ waited near the doors in case the goat tried to escape. (family)

Suddenly, the goat grabbed the _____ blanket in the parade and raced down the hallway. (pretty) The students _____ after it, but the blanket became _____ with every turn. (hurry, messy)

At last, the goat stopped beside two sleepy _____ in the school office. (puppy) Their owner had _____ about losing all three animals that morning. (worry)

The principal _____ the muddy blanket with a towel and returned it to the parade. (dry) Everyone agreed that the goat had created the _____, _____, and most surprising pajama parade in school history. (silly, crazy)

When the parade ended, the students left _____, hoping the goat would return for next year's show. (happy)