

Name _____

Scholar Sprint Complete-Sentence Dictation (High School)

Teacher Dictation Sentences

1. The committee postponed its recommendation until the members could evaluate the conflicting evidence.
2. Although the experiment appeared successful, the researchers acknowledged several significant limitations.
3. Elena's persuasive presentation challenged the audience to reconsider its assumptions about renewable energy.
4. After reviewing the historical documents, Marcus developed a more nuanced interpretation of the conflict.
5. The superintendent announced that extracurricular activities would resume once the severe weather had passed.
6. Because the author's argument lacked sufficient evidence, the conclusion seemed unnecessarily speculative.
7. "Why should society preserve artifacts whose significance is not immediately obvious?" the curator asked.
8. Despite the unexpected technical difficulties, the engineering team completed the demonstration with remarkable precision.